Workplace Violence Prevention in General Industry (Non-Health Care Settings) – Information for Employers

According to the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), workplace violence affects nearly 2 million American workers annually. SB 553 addresses workplace violence by requiring employers to implement basic protections to protect employees while at work.

This fact sheet is an overview of the California Senate Bill 553 (SB 553), which was signed into law on September 30, 2023. SB 553 amended Labor Code section 6401.7 to require employers to develop and implement a workplace violence prevention plan in accordance with newly codified Labor Code section 6401.9, which sets out the requirements for the plan. Starting July 1, 2024, the majority of employers in California must establish, implement, and maintain a Workplace Violence Prevention Plan that includes:

- Prohibiting employee retaliation.
- Accepting and responding to reports of workplace violence.
- Employee workplace violence training and communication.
- Emergency response.
- Workplace violence hazard assessments.
- Other requirements, such as maintaining a Violent Incident Log.

What must employers know?

All employers, employees, places of employment, and employer-provided housing must comply with the new Labor Code requirements, except those listed in subsection (b) of Labor Code 6401.9.

This fact sheet only provides an overview. Employers should review the full requirements of California Senate Bill 553 (SB 553), which includes Labor Code section 6401.9.

- The plan must be in effect at all times and in all work areas and be specific to the hazards and corrective measures for each work area and operation.
- The written plan may be incorporated as a stand-alone section in the written injury and illness prevention program required by section 3203 of title 8 of the California Code of Regulations or maintained as a separate document.
